

Dear Sir/Madam,

Please be advised that SABS Standards is still trying to increase and extend the levels of stakeholder involvement in the development of South African National Standards (SANS). In this context it should be noted that a monthly list of draft standards for comment is published in the SABS Standards Bulletin on the SABS website in the middle of every month.

Consequently herewith is a notification regarding the publication of the March/April 2009 monthly edition of the SABS Standards Bulletin on the SABS website. The direct Internet URL is as follows :

http://www.sabs.co.za/pdf/Business_Units/Standards_SA/03-09.pdf

(Current Issue)

Once you have opened this issue of the SABS Standards Bulletin on the Internet you will find "Standards - Drafts for Comment" listed in the table of contents as a hyperlink. If you click on this hyperlink you will be directed to page 35 where the list of drafts for comment begins.

Should you wish to comment on any of the draft standards you can obtain the drafts and direct your comments to the Committee Administrator /Standards Writer / Project Leader in question via the SABS Standards

Information Centre at telephone + 27 12 428-6666 or e-mail info@sabs.co.za

Kind regards.

E.F.Webb (Ms)

SABS Standards Information Centre

South African Bureau of Standards

Website <http://www.sabs.co.za>

E-mail webbef@sabs.co.za

Telefax +27 12 428 6928

Telephone +27 12 428 6564

2009-04-28

Although the SABS is willing to advise persons on matters concerning standards, any advice is given strictly on the understanding that neither the SABS nor any of its officers are to incur any legal liability whatsoever (including liability for negligence) should the advice be incorrect, incomplete or in any other way defective and all liability is therefore disclaimed.